Traugott Maximilian Eberwein (1775-1831) was a member of the exquisite circle of artists, which was called the "Weimarer Musenhof". Goethe was also a member and they worked under the patronage of the art-loving Duchess Anna Amalia. As an extremely productive composer, Eberwein composed numerous operas, songs, and also orchestral music, which can be heard on this recording played by the Thüringisches Kammerorchester Weimar under Max Pommer.
