Siegfried Jung – tuba Johanna Jung – harp Orchester des Nationaltheater Mannheim Walter Hilgers – conductor	2016

It's still rather unusual to see the tuba as a solo instrument, although the repertoire contains some musical pearls and has gained significant growth in recent decades. For instance Ralph Vaughan Williams did compose a concert that explores the possibilities of the instrument with virtuoso passages; Willi March does the same in his divertimento for the surprisingly charming combination with the harp. A few years ago Prayer was written by Andrea Csollány for the orchestra of the Nationaltheater Mannheim under Walter Hilgers.
