Liuwe Tamminga – organ

In his early years, before moving to Milan to continue his studies at the age of 22, Puccini was playing in several churches in and around Lucca and composed several pieces for organ.

Only recently several collections containing more than 30 unknown pieces have surfaced. They add a musical portrait of the young composer and a very special insight in the operatic style of the church music at the end of the 19th century. Liuwe Tamminga plays on the very same organs that the young Puccini has been playing in and around the Tuscan city of Lucca.
